

EXTRA. 2 O'CLOCK. THE TUNNEL INQUEST.

Continuance of the Investigation of Friday's Awful Tragedy.

Jurors Convinced of the Need of Electric Lights.

One Juror Made Seriously Ill by the Foul Air of the Tunnel.

When Coroner Levy and his jury assembled this morning, to continue their inquest over the death of Helen T. Supple and the five other unfortunate victims of Friday's horrible collision in the Fourth Avenue tunnel, they found that the testimony of the witnesses so far examined amply sustains the public demand that the tunnel shall be lighted by electricity and properly ventilated.

The necessity of the electric lighting and ventilating of the tunnel, as first promulgated through the New Evening World, is constantly being established as the investigation proceeds.

Their visit to the fatal tunnel yesterday and the recollection of their inability to discern the signals scarcely thirty feet through the darkness, smoke and steam, still fresh in the minds of the jury when they gathered at the Coroner's office this morning.

The belief that proper lighting and ventilation of the tunnel would have prevented the horrible disaster and saved six human lives had also been strengthened by Eugene Foster's deposition, when he testified that he had been in the tunnel when it was lighted and ventilated in his efforts to discern signals.

The jurors were for the most part prompt in assembling this morning, and when the inquest was resumed, shortly after 11 o'clock, the study court-room was crowded to suffocation with witnesses and curious onlookers.

Among the latter was a nervous individual who announces himself as "Citizen Chandler, of the United States."

"The citizens have persistently bothered the Coroner and newspaper men with plans for a system which they think would have prevented Friday's disaster for $5."

Although very firmly and positively "sat upon" by Coroner Levy yesterday afternoon, "Citizen Chandler" was not deterred in his purpose and this morning bobbed up as a second time.

Juror Isaac Hamburger sent a telegram saying that he would be unable to attend on account of a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which he contracted in the tunnel yesterday. At the last moment, however, he appeared, and the inquest proceeded.

Mr. Anderson nearly killed in presence of his children.

GOV. MILLER, of North Dakota, says:

POINTERS ON THE RAGES. Bulkeley's Piece of Mind.

Tipsters' Opinions on the Various Winners To-Day.

Programme of the Several Events to Be Run Off.

The bad weather to-day will probably spoil as good a race as has ever been put together at Gutterburg. Every one of the six races contained interesting entries, and had the rain held off a good day's sport would have been had. The handicap at a mile, with Kancocas, Belle d'Or, Salsol, Joe Courtney, Macbeth, Anterior, Pencil and other good ones, promised exceedingly well.

The first race, at seven furlongs, looks like a good thing for Katrina on her past performance; she should win handily. Clara Porter may be second and Ill-Point should beat the others.

The second race is a dash of five and one-half furlongs. On her recent races Katina has a great chance. Indeed, she should defeat the others very handily, if form counts for anything. Gracie M. looks to be the best of the others, and she may be second. Lady F. may be third.

The third brings together some good ones in a six-furlong race. Lemon ought to win easily. Peril made a poor showing when last out, but it was due to poor riding, and he may do better to-day. He ought to be second. Mamie K. should defeat the others.

The fourth race is the handicap at a mile. Pencil, providing Pencil or some other strong boy rides, has an excellent chance to win this event. The Sire Brothers have Belle d'Or and Salsol entered, and whatever one they decide to start may be second. Kancocas should beat the others.

The fifth race is at five and a half furlongs. Katina looks to have the best of the weights, but she has some good ones to fight against, and the distance is half a furlong further than she likes. Glitter II. has been performing so well recently that he will be a strong contender. He ought to be second. Salsol may win in the end.

The last race, at seven furlongs, should fall to Pencil. John Jay S. may be second and Gracie M. third.

Refered, in the Sporting World, make these the following:

First Race—Katina, Clara Porter, Belle d'Or, Salsol, Joe Courtney, Macbeth, Anterior, Pencil, and other good ones.

Second Race—Katina, Gracie M., Lady F., and other good ones.

Third Race—Lemon, Peril, Mamie K., and other good ones.

Fourth Race—Pencil, Belle d'Or, Salsol, and other good ones.

WORDS OF A DEFUNCT BOARD. Kings of the Canine World.

Annual Report of the State Emigration Commissioners.

Sharp Criticism of Federal Management of Immigration Matters.

The Commissioners of Emigration of the State of New York, which last April was deprived of nearly all of its powers by the Secretary of the Treasury terminating the contract of the State with the Board of Emigration, and the fact that the Board of Emigration, which has still one duty left which it proposes to perform regularly.

It has just made its annual report to the Legislature.

In this report the State Board reviews its fight with Secretary Windom and Federal Superintendents of Immigration John C. Wadsworth, and sharply criticizes the Federal Administration of immigration matters.

The annual verbiage on Secretary Windom's policy are not nearly so severe as they would be, President Hildway said to-day, if the Secretary had not died while the report was in preparation.

The report shows that from 1897 until last April, the State Board has attended to the landing of and caring for immigrants without one cent of cost to the people of the United States, while since April 1897, it has been expended by the National Government at this point alone, and another $100,000 appropriation has been made for the same purpose.

"The entire head-money tax paid by the steamship companies has been used up," said President Hildway to-day, "and now a demand is made on the people of the country to assist in landing immigrants."

The statement of Secretary of the Treasury Hildway that the Government should have no part in the landing of immigrants is characterized as an attempt to make such immigrants as are landed at the expense of the State, and to make the State pay for the landing of immigrants.

Reference is made to the fact that the Government has refused to make a contract for the care of immigrants landed at the expense of the State, and to make the State pay for the landing of immigrants.

The report is signed by President Hildway and Commissioner Starr, Stephenson and Hildway.

IDENTIFIES THE TORN BODY. Mr. Vossler Thinks It Is That of William Forest Flint.

The horribly mutilated and disfigured body of the man found yesterday in the bushes near the new aqueduct shaft, at Boston and Sedgwick avenues, was brought to the Morgue this morning.

Sept. White says it is the most gruesome corpse he ever received. Every bit of the face and head has been gnawed away by the teeth of some animal, and the body was left in a state of great horror for the "lunatic" of the show.

CHARGES AGAINST MR. MOSS. Arthur Wallack Says His Father Was Defrauded.

A dramatic newspaper yesterday printed what appears to be an authoritative statement from the late Lester Wallack's family in relation to his business connection with Theodore Moss.

Arthur Wallack told a World reporter last night that he could substantiate all the statements made in the article, which plainly intimates that Mr. Moss defrauded Lester Wallack out of a large fortune.

Mr. Moss, it is alleged, began under James Wallack at a very small salary and became Lester Wallack's treasurer from 1883 to 1885, with a rapidly rising scale of remuneration. The allegation is also made that Mr. Moss had been in the habit of sending to his employer in a bank under his own name.

The receipts and profits of Mr. Wallack's theatres during these eighteen years are given by the dramatic journal as follows:

From 1868 to 1885, Mr. Wallack's gross receipts, $7,701,504.14. Total profits over all expenses, $1,116,900. Average profits per year, $111,690.00.

Of this showing of prosperous management, Mr. Wallack's method of living and his probable expenses are also given, and it is stated that he had been in the habit of sending to his employer in a bank under his own name.

QUESTIONS CONTINGENT ON THE POLICE SUPERINTENDENT'S RETIREMENT.

The long leave of absence granted Supt. William Murray, of the Police Department, will expire March 10, when it is expected that he will be retired on a pension.

It was for the betterment of his health that so long a leave of absence was granted the Superintendent; but the real and change which it has secured him is said not to have benefited him to the extent that he will be able to resume command of the police force.

With Mr. Murray's retirement the question of succession will become of great public interest.

As the law stands the office of Superintendent can only be filled by promotion, after a civil-service examination.

The only men who are eligible to compete in the examination; but such competition, says the Superintendent, is not expected.

The names of the three, should they pass the examination, would be certified to the Police Board for selection.
